Ambient

Background

Broighter Gold Rapeseed Oil was formed in 2010 as a farm diversification project by husband and wife Richard and Leona Kane.

Around 100 acres is used to grow a single variety of oilseed to produce their high quality rapeseed oil.

The Broighter Gold range includes the original Liquid Gold, flavour infused oils such as Basil, Chilli, Rosemary and Garlic, Lemon, Thai, Black Truffle and Hickory Smoked Rapeseed Oil.

The family business sells its oils to restaurants, hotels, delis, farm shops, independent retailers throughout Northern Ireland as well as Great Britain, the Republic of Ireland and France.

Ireland's greatest find of gold artefacts from the Iron Age of the 1st century BC was found on the farm and is now held by the national Museum of Ireland.

In addition to the development of rapeseed oil, the company has expanded into industrial tourism by developing an exhibition centre through the international EconoMusee network that enables visitors to see how the oil is produced and used in cooking.
