

RJ Cherry & Son

Chilled Fresh

Background

RJ Cherry & Son is a farming family established in traditional farming practices since the seventeenth century.

RJ Cherry has embraced market demand for a range of fresh Asian vegetable produce and also specialises in cross pollinating new varieties of seed potatoes.

RJ Cherry cultivates and grows Pak Choi in a completely grit and soil free environment. This unique way of producing Pak Choi means it is completely grit free and because it is produced clean it is not washed and this gives our vegetable a longer storage life.

Shanghai Pak Choy or Pak Choi is one of the oldest Chinese vegetables and has been cultivated in China since the fifth century A.D.

It is an extremely versatile vegetable and can be enjoyed in stir fries, soups and salads. The Chinese vegetable range currently in production includes: Green Pak Choi, Baby Pak Choi and Choi Sum for supply to the catering & food service market across Northern Ireland.

For many years RJ Cherry has been specialising in cross pollinating new varieties of seed potatoes including 'Sunbeam', a high dry matter potato perfect for steaming & boiling & 'Sunray', a more waxy potato with an average dry matter of 19%. All these potatoes are locally grown.
