

Ballylisk of Armagh

Ambient Fresh

Background

Five generations of the Wright family have farmed lush green fields of Ballylisk in County Armagh and their pedigree herd produces some of the richest creamiest milk in the world. It is the key ingredient in the first of the Ballylisk of Armagh range - a decadent Triple Cream cheese called the Triple Rose, a unique triple cream cheese that's won widespread acclaim here, in the Republic of Ireland and in Great Britain..

In May 2019 Ballylisk introduced a delicious smoked version of its hugely popular Triple Rose - the first smoked soft cheese produced in Northern Ireland since the 1970s - is sourced again from Ballylisk's own pedigree Friesian herd and is smoked slowly over beechwood at the company's processing plant.
