Background

Born in 1898 in the small farming town of Cradock, South Africa to a family of British settlers – Cecil “Fenner” Moorcroft joined the family meat business from a young age. Over the following years he built up a wealth of expertise in the livestock trade and became a well-known name amongst farmers all over South Africa.

Five generations later and back home in Britain, we continue to carry out Fenner’s legacy of providing wholesome top-quality, traditional South African style biltong and meat snacks that are tasty, nutritious and ethically sourced from the highest grade livestock – just like Fenner did!
