

Lecale Harvest

Ambient

Background

Lecale Harvest was created by native Frenchman Patrice Bonnargent and specialises in creating a range of seafood and meat pates, duck confit and pork belly all inspired by the food of his youth whilst living in the Loire Valley.

This family-run business produces a wide range of both seafood and meat pate all from locally sourced ingredients. They are made using the fresh fish and shellfish landed at the nearby fishing port of Ardglas. The confit and pork belly are made with local duck and pork.
